Challenges and Success Factors

Main challenges

1. Key drivers (Lead agency and other government agencies) may not get the budget timely to put in place requirements to support the implementation of the NSW.
2. Many players involved and it requires efficient coordination.
3. Level of computerization of business processes differs from one organization/agency to another organization/agency and difference in data standard could lead to more complexity.

Success Factors

1. Political will and commitment in terms of national policy and financial support.
- 2a. Identify a strong Lead agency and ensure that all players have a common understanding on the objectives of the NSW.
- 2b. Establish relevant bodies (such as steering committee, task force/working groups) to undertake specific roles and responsibilities.
- 3a. Relevant agencies need to carry out business process re-engineering to streamline their respective business processes.
- 3b. Identify the champion to coordinate the business process re-engineering activities carried out individual agency including adoption of international standard for data standardization and harmonization.

Main challenges

- 4. Coping with changes to existing system is not an easy task.
- 5. Lacking ICT infrastructure particularly at remote locations could be an obstacle to the effectiveness of the NSW.

Success Factors

- 4. Establish efficient and effective change management policy and procedure.
- 5. Establish a strategic plan to address ICT infrastructure issues, if any.

The Way Forward

1

Development of a new Customs Processing System to support the new blueprint of the enhanced NSW is in progress

2

Finalization of NSW Operating model is underway

3

Continue technical testing with other ASEAN Member States' NSWs in the ASEAN Single Window Pilot Project
